Howling Commandos

Open with narration by war era movie announcer (sort of like a war reel you know?)

The year is 1943. As brave Allied troops ready themselves for the coming task of an invasion, a covert fighting force, the howling commandos, is tasked with defeating the might of the third reich from inside enemy territory! Their first mission? Help a resistance group sabotage an important railway bridge, guarded by an elite guard of nazi soldiers.

Characters: Sam Sawyer (stand in for nick fury, leader in comics)

- Dum Dum Dugan
- Jim Morita
-

Duane Willson (secretly nazi simp, he is killed by the howling commandos when they realize what he has done)

- # Jonathan Juniper (youngest member, wounded in mission)

Jerry Larkin (killed in misson)

George Stonewell

Dino Manelli

Robert ralston

Percival "Pinky" Pinkerton

Hans Klaus

Fred Jones (killed in misson)

Vulture: german millitary officer in charge of defending bridge who is told by sam sawyer of the attack and thus is ready with more troops than the commandos expected. He is killed in the battle.

Story:

The Howling Commandos are parachuted covertly in a supply drop to a french resistance group communicating with allies. The commandos are to help the group blow up a key railway bridge and then make their way to friendly territory. Upon reaching the bridge they are attacked by german forces who knew they were coming, thanks to nazi simpathiser sam sawyer, a member of the team. In the ensuing battle Fred Jones and Jerry Larkin and killed, while Junior Juniper is wounded. The commandos manage to blow up the bridge but not before many of the resistance fighters they were with are killed. They and the survivors then manage to cross the english channle under the cover of darkness.

The invaders and captain america are mentioned in the story

The railway bridge is guarded by, on both endpoints of the bridge, pillboxes, trench, barbed wire, observation post, and guard booth

After betrayal the defences are reinforced with machine gun nests and more troops

Maybe a german tank arrives?